

Announce Your Tribute to Rachel Carson with a Legacy Paver

Rachel Carson inspired the environmental movement with her landmark book Silent Spring in 1962. Today, her message is as timely as ever, and more urgent!

Rachel Carson was a courageous visionary - Time Magazine identified Carson - along with Albert Einstein and Sigmund Freud- as one of the “five most influential scientists and thinkers of the 20th Century.”

Rachel Carson’s birthplace and early home in Western Pennsylvania is on the U.S. National Register of Historic Sites, maintained to educate the public about her life and legacy,

A new sign is being installed, landscaped with a brick-paved area. You are invited to contribute and include your message on a legacy paver. Order soon* to include your engraved paver.

You can select to include your name, honor someone else, an organization, a special date, or other message.

The order form will guide you through the format, and present you with a visual view of your paver.
